

Gold Medal Winner

*2009 Martin Ray Reserve Santa Cruz Mountains
Cabernet Sauvignon*

2009 Martin Ray
Santa Cruz Mountains
Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

Gold Medal Winner
2013 American Fine Wine Competition

2009 Martin Ray Santa Cruz Mountains Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

91 POINTS

“A rich, black cherry-scented cabernet, this has the fruitiness of forest mushrooms, along with a gentle texture. The finish light, wrapped in the scent of herbs.”

- Wine & Spirits, December 2012

2008 Martin Ray Santa Cruz Mountains Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

88 POINTS

“Ready to drink now, with its ripely forward blackberry and cherry flavors. A sweet coating of oak adds to the yummy factor. Made especially fine by the quality of the tannins.”

–S.H., Wine Enthusiast, March 2012 issue

2008 Martin Ray
Santa Cruz Mountains
Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

SILVER MEDAL

2012 San Francisco Chronicle Wine Competition

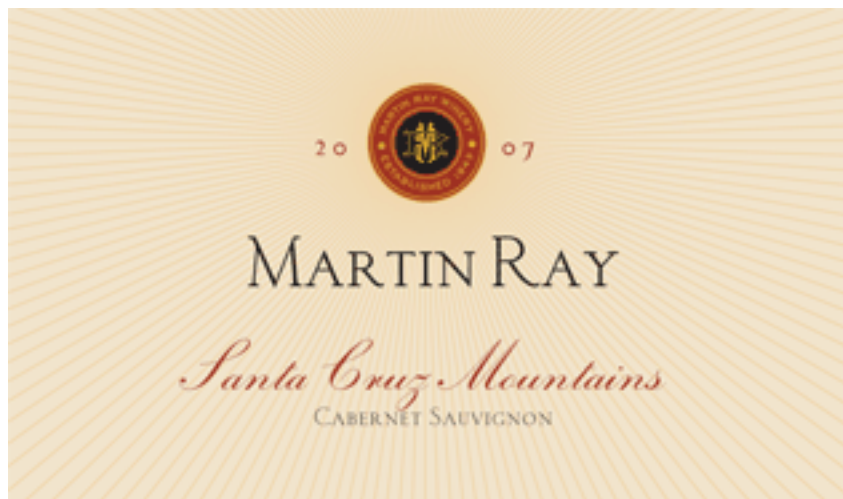

2007 Martin Ray Santa Cruz Mountains Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

90 POINTS

“Shows the intense concentration of mountain-grown grapes and the acidity of a cool-climate vineyard. The combination yields this robust young Cabernet Sauvignon. With potent blackberry and mineral flavors, it could develop for up to six years in the cellar.”

- S.H., Wine Enthusiast Magazine, May 2011

2007 Martin Ray
Santa Cruz Mountains
Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

SILVER MEDAL

2011 San Francisco Chronicle Wine Competition

2006 Martin Ray Santa Cruz Mountains Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

92 POINTS

“A beautiful wine for drinking now, although it will take a few years in the cellar. Dry and soft, it offers appealing, complex flavors of blackberries, cherries, anise, mocha and sweet smoky oak, wrapped into firm but fine tannins. Gets more interesting as it airs and warms in the glass.”

– S.H. Wine Enthusiast, September 2010 issue